Syracuse Company launches new website, uses creativity and latest technology to help companies nationwide

Syracuse, NY - In life, everyone grapples with identity. Whether it is what we wear, what job we choose, where we're from or what and whom we love. It is the journey toward individual identity that we all take.

Don't all businesses take this journey, too?

Ottovonmo Productions thinks so, and is helping companies big and small sort out any insecurity to develop their true identity with high-tech digital film production. Fusing their knowledge of high-definition video, and technology as a whole, (the Internet, web-development, et al), with their artistic and creative experience (cinematography, photography, graphic design, et al), Ottovonmo has built up their client list steadily since wandering cinematographer and tech-rat Bret Moses settled down and brought his business back home to Syracuse in 2006. (A stint in a high-tech "real job" in Silicon Valley in late 90's; Lake Tahoe for three ski films 2001-2003; incorporates OPI in NH, 2003, and Director of Photography on "Best Emerging Filmmaker" winner Independent film at Boston's Roxbury film festival 2004, etc., etc.)

In initial, repeat and current projects for companies such as Timberland, Constellation Wines, Mirbeau Inn & Spa, SUN Chevrolet, C's Cheese and many more, Ottovonmo has understood that something modern and technological can be beautiful. Hence their new tag line, and the motto which guides them, "Where Art Meets Technology". It is the motto that inspires their new-look website, www.ottovonmo.com, and allows them to deliver to their growing clientele an imaginative and complete digital multimedia package.

High-end Digital Film, beautiful Still Photography, cutting-edge Graphic Design...

No one wants the same look as everyone else, and Ottovonmo Productions knows how integral identity is to your company. So browse on through and satisfy your curiosity, because within the new website you can see exactly what Ottovonmo knows; That Anything is Possible.
